The Eighth Annual Convention of the State Board of Corrections and Charities, and of the Association of County Agents, will be held in Detroit, December 9 and 10, 1889, at the Philharmonic Hall, corner of Lafayette Avenue and Shelby Street. The object of the convention is, through addresses, discussions and reports, to obtain and diffuse information respecting the benevolent, charitable, penal and reformatory work done by our State, County and private institutions, and to learn, if we may, how best to prosecute such work. All members of boards of State, County and private benevolent, charitable, penal and reformatory institutions and societies, and all officials engaged in benevolent and reformatory work throughout the State are members of the convention, and are cordially invited. Invitation is also extended to others not connected with any charitable organization or institution, who are actively engaged or interested in charitable or reformatory work, to attend the sessions and take part in the deliberations. Detroit has some twentyfive correctional and charitable institutions, which offer a rich field for study: an opportunity will be given, Tuesday afternoon, December 10th, to the delegates to visit such of them as each may choose. The superintendents of the Poor of Wayne county, with the Poor Commissioner of the city of Detroit, have planned a free ride to Wayne, on Wednesday morning, December 11, to yisit their County House and Asylum; in many respects this institution is a model of its kind, both in structure and management, and will well repay, particularly those interested in the care of the county poor, the remaining over a day to make this visit.

Obituary.

Mrs. Catharine Heath, mother of Mrs. Riley Bangs, died at New Hudson, Oakland county on the 15th inst. The funeral services were held at New Hudson, ter which the remains were taken to Wixom, and interred near the Free Baptist church of which she had for many years been a consistent and faithful member. The deceased was 75 years old, and had been a sufferer for many years, being rendered nearly helpless by a stroke of paralysis about 1880. Mrs. Heath leaves eight children to mourn her loss. She was ever a kind mother, loving friend and consistent

GOOD NEWS. We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True eroup never appears without a warning. The first symptom is hoarseness, then the child appears to have taken a cold or a cold may have ac-companied the hoarseness from the After that a peculiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the croup. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy would prevent the attack. Even after the rough cough has appeared, the disease may be prevented by using this remedy as directed. The only safe way is to keep a 50 cent bottle of the Remedy in the house for use whenever symptoms of the disease appear. For sale by all druggists.

Last year the Detroit Journal organized and carried out a very successful floral exhibition, for the benefit of the Detroit charities, and is now busily at work planning for another and much greater one. The musical feature alone will require the organization of a chorus will be of the dimensions of a notable art exhibition. The chiefest interest, however, will center in the floral dis play, and in the 25 floral booths, to be conducted by the ladies of the various charities.
